

IXONOS ADDS TO ITS MANAGEMENT TEAM

Ixonos Plc has invited Jorma Hanhimäki, Director, Line Management of Telecommunications Business Unit, and Timo Kaisla, CEO of Ixonos Project Management Services, to join the company's management team from 27 February 2007. Jorma Hanhimäki, age 45, acted in 2001-2005 as CEO of Vega Technologies Oy, the software development service company that Ixonos acquired in October 2005. Hanhimäki has a long experience of the software product business.

Timo Kaisla, age 37, acted in 2000-2006 as CEO of Service 4 Mobile Oy, the project management service company Ixonos acquired in June 2006. Previously Kaisla has worked with Orange, Vodafone, Nokia and several Finnish telecom operators.

In addition to Hanhimäki and Kaisla, Ixonos' Management Team comprises CEO and President Kari Happonen, CFO Petteri Mussalo, CAO Risto Alvejuuri, director of the Telecommunications Business Unit Kari Liuska, director of the Systems Services Business Unit Asko Vainionpää and, representing the personnel, Shop Steward Taisto Takkumäki.

Ixonos operates in the IT and ICT service markets, offering its customers flexible software development, maintenance and project management solutions that support their competitiveness and risk management. Ixonos's services range from expert work and consultation to software project deliveries and software maintenance services with comprehensive responsibility. Ixonos's clientele comprises leading mobile and smartphone manufacturers operating on the global markets, mobile network suppliers and telecom operators as well as Finnish finance companies and public administration organisations.

Ixonos has its headquarter in Helsinki and local offices in Tampere, Turku, Salo, Jyväskylä, Oulu, Rovaniemi and Kemi, a subsidiary in Haapajärvi and in Tallinn (Estonia), too. The number of personnel exceeds 600.

The company is listed on the Nordic Exchange, in the Small Cap segment, in sector Information Technology. The company's turnover was EUR 39,2 million in 2006. Operating profit was EUR 3,9 million.

For additional information, please contact:

Ixonos Plc

Kari Happonen, phone +358 424 2231, mobile +358 400 700 761

kari.happonen@ixonos.com